Last week in our news items we referred to the removal of Gen. R. A. PRATT.

Pratt, superintendent of the Indian school at Carlisle, because, so forth, he had the courage to say what he thought of the way the business of the Indian bureau has been administered. General Pratt's speaking of his removal, said that if he had been called up and court-martialed it would have been perfectly satisfactory. That is the sentiment of a man who has been honest and true to the trust reposed in him, the sentiment of a man who is not ashamed of his public record. In the management of the Indian school General Pratt has been active and tireless in his efforts to safeguard the interests of the institution and has always exercised a watchful care over his wards. The Indian bureau of the department of the interior has been trying to "play politics" with the school, as all of the other departments of the Indian service have been used, and because General Pratt protested he was removed. With the same purpose which prompted President Roosevelt to protect the perpetrators of the post office frauds, he is shielding the culprits in the Indian bureau of the interior department by turning a blind eye to the removal of a tried and true man out of office, but the president's attempt to disgrace such an official in order to keep the search-light of truth from exposing the crookedness in the federal offices will not find favor with the fair-minded people of free America.

THE HELL GATE HORROR. General Slocum last week overshadowed all records of similar disasters. At least 1,000 persons perished, most of them women and children. The sorrow-stricken people who live near the scene of the appalling calamity promptly went to the aid of the survivors and did all they could to alleviate their grief and pain.

And now that the people have recovered from the severe shock of the awful accident it behoves them to make a rigid investigation of the catastrophe so that the responsibility may be placed where it belongs and a repetition of the disaster avoided. The seamlessness of the General Slocum should be ascertained. Some say that the steering gear of the vessel was at fault, that the life preservers were made of rotten canvas and filled with powdered cork instead of lumps and sheets of the bark that would have had some floating value, that the cords by which they were fastened were so weak that they came apart in the effort to Annie them. Every craft is supposed to have enough life rafts and life boats to carry off the complement of passengers and crew in an emergency, yet on the Slocum there were only six boats and four rafts, capable of carrying 250 people. The vessel was made of wood, and although not more than fifteen years old, was of an obsolete type.

If the disaster at Hell Gate does not bring about the abolishment of wooden craft and the substitution of iron vessels it should at least have the effect of inducing a more honest and thorough inspection of steamers, so that no more shall be allowed to go out with tanks of gasoline in the rooms, leaky hoses on the decks, insufficient life-boats and unreliable life preservers. The burning of the Slocum should result in replacing the wooden cockle shells with stanch vessels supplied with an adequate number of boats and rafts, fire hose, grenades and life preservers. The hulls of these ships should be divided into water tight compartments so that in an emergency these compartments may be closed and the iron partitions will keep out water, flames and smoke so that the passengers may be gathered into the uninjured part of the ship. Such a craft, if it should burn, would be consumed so slowly that the excursionists could escape.

Crop Estimates.

WASHINGTON, June 20.—Preliminary returns to the chief of the bureau of statistics of the department of agriculture on the acreage of spring wheat shown indicate an area of 17,140,800 acres, a decrease of 16,100 acres or .7 per cent. from the revised estimate of the acreage sown last year. Special Correspondence of THE GAZETTE.

Mrs. Eva Bartho, 131 East 12th street, New York City, N. Y., writes: "I suffered for three years with leprosy and ulceration of the womb. The doctor advocated an operation which I dread very much, and strongly advised to go under it. Not being a changed woman, I permitted myself to take nine bottles, but I did much improved. I kept taking it, as I deemed an operation good. I am today in perfect health and have not felt so well for fifteen years."—Mrs. Eva Bartho.

REVIEW OF THE CHIMIST LIFE. Goldsmith, T. L., author of "Give Him a Home that is Above every home"—"Phil. Ed."

Heroin is full-forged four-fold love.

Jesus during His life on the earth before His crucifixion, had proclaimed: "For God's love, the world, that He gave it only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth on Him should not perish, but have eternal life. For God sent not His Son into the world to judge the world, but that the world should be saved through Him."

He made this second proclamation:

"Total Depravity is not dead; it stalks abroad with noiseless footfall in the silent shadows of the night; in this case there was no sacrificial innocent blood on the doorstep to welcome the Herald of Salvation. The conviction forced upon us that "Total Depravity" is a living and breathing fact."

All the week a crowd has struggled around the court house, dashing against the doors which refused them admittance like the wrathful waves of a stormy sea. Over six months have passed since Andrew H. Green was assassinated on his own doorstep. Who was Andrew H. Green? He was New York's greatest and most honored citizen. There was no position within the state but that he might have had for it. And the best of all, was a cakewalk of 20 couples, headed by Mr. and Mrs. William Young.

ONE WHO WAS THERE.

NATURE'S OWN CURE.

Hymen Cures Catarrh Without Dangerous
Dropping of the Stomach.

Not until Hymen was discovered has it been possible to truthfully say that a remedy for catarrh was known.

This remedy is breathed through the hymen inhaler for a few minutes four times a day, and during that every particle of our intake into the air passages and lungs is impregnated with the germ killing and giving Hymen. It is the only treatment that cures catarrh.

Scars dragging often causes disorderly digestion or brings on some other disease and never makes a permanent cure of catarrh. Hymen not only kills the germs in the blood, but penetrates to the membranes and tissues and causes the blood with the oxygen, killing the worms in the blood. It frees the mucous membrane from poisonous microbes and gives perfect health.

A complete outfit costs $1.00, and includes an inhaler, dropper and sufficient Hymen for several weeks' treatment.

W. J. Jordan has so much faith in the merit of Hymen that he agrees to return the money to any purchaser who may be dissatisfied.

Thoughts for the Day.

If we knew that the troubles which press us were sent by God and not brought by our own fault we could bear them better.

The brave man works on even when Despair stands at his elbow, and keeps at the pumps until the ship sinks.

The critic is apt to view the work he is about to dissect from an oblique angle.

Some men can do anything with money, and others can do anything for money.

There is only one thing sweeter than to love—it is to be loved. So women say.

Nothing shows the patience of God so much as geology in earth and sea in the soil; and nothing shows His power as astronomy and forgiveness.

The future has more in store for us than the past has shown us.

Far and near, in every place, a saintly glow which lights your way.

It is the pathway to the life before the endless day.

As the ideal of Justice does not make you just, so the ideal of Righteousness makes no one righteous; actual practice and exercise must be given where we are drilled in the experience of that grace, and thus we become righteous.

Our thoughts should make our farewells tender; we know not when or how we shall meet the loved ones again.

Coloride, a man of faith, said: "How glorious it is to live!" Roman, a doubtless, said: "When will it ever be worth while?"

For God hath not appointed unto us wrath, but to obtain salvation by our Lord Jesus Christ, who died for us.

The Flag of Victory.

The thirteen stars and stripes was triumphant at Saratoga in 1777, also in the War of 1812 Mexican War, Civil War and Spanish War. With such a record our flag has been truly called "The Flag of Victory."

On account of the unequalled victories made by the United States, the Stars and Stripes has also been truly called

"The leader of the class." In fact, so it is believed that prominent persons all over the country never doubt in recommending it to their most delicate patients, knowing from past experience that it can be of great service.

As far as possible the Bitter will effect a cure, the gentlest of all that is necessary to remove a fever in cases of indigestion, dyspepsia, constipation, bilious gripes. Guaranteed by J. R. Irving & Co. Druggists. Trial bottles free, regular sizes 50c and $1.00.

ANNUAL MEETING

Of the Bedford County Lutheran Conference, held at Coopers.

The Bedford County Lutheran conference opened at Coopers with a suitable sermon by Rev. M. L. Furst Monday evening. Tuesday morning conference organized with the election of Rev. M. L. Culler, president; Rev. G. M. Brown, treasurer. Also the exercise of the right of private judgment in matters of religion became an unqualified blessing to Christianity and the church." was well discussed by Revs. Jones and Lingel, followed by general discussion. The right of private judgment was the subject of much interest. The exercise of the right has often been greatly abused, fostered dissension and strife, and in many instances has had the effect of driving religious sects on merely personal grounds, and by reason of disappointed aims as fish ambition has been done to the cause of Christianity and the church.

"The personal benefits and influence upon others of regular church services was thoroughly discussed by Revs. E. R. Frazee and Schroeder, participated in by other members of conference. The united judgment of all was that the benefits of regular church attendance are inestimable and that a awful responsibility rests upon every professed Christian to exercise his part in the influence of example upon others, especially upon children and the young.

Tuesday evening, by appointment, Rev. Culler preached a graceful sermon on the theme, "The Spiritual and Lutheran Church." The sermon contained the notion of infinite perfection. The assumption of infinite perfection in some localities has led to fanaticism and Pharisaical self-righteousness.

Wednesday morning "What does a titled divine worship?"—what is it?—was well considered by Revs. Lingel and Gross, followed by general discussion. The act of worshipping the true God is the most solemn and important act which man can engage in and the experience of centered devotion and the value of service in which all believe, young and old, can have an active part. "The children baptiz'd and unbaptiz'd, what claim have they upon the church?" was earnestly discussed by Revs. Furst and Frazee, with general discussion following. Children are victims in what may be termed their minority, just as all children, no matter how young, are considered citizens of the United States, though they may not have reached the age of exercising all rights of citizenship.

The annual meeting of conference will be held at Graceland in Bay's Corners All the parishes were represented by lay delegates except the two vacant charges, Sexton and Mt. Pleasant, Rev. J. H. Diehl, the pastor loco., and his kind people of the congregation, found most abundant and generous hospitality to all the members of conference.

Wednesday evening conference closed with an appropriate sermon by Rev. G. M. Brown. The poor showed their deep interest by filling the church at all the sessions.

SUNDAY AT SULPHUR SPRINGS.

Guests at this Popular Hotel Delightfully Entertained by the Bedford Orchestra.

The Bedford orchestra and many of its admiring friends spent Sunday at the White Sulphur Springs. A brisk walk over the mountain path, a pleasant drive, and two hours of recreation into a sylvan labyrinth out of which rises the far-famed beauty of the Colvin Brothers. It is a spot suggestive of repose, where worry and incessant toil find no place indeed delightful enjoyment is held out invitingly to all. Sunday evening the orchestra were the source of enjoyment last Sunday afternoon. Nature and art vied with each other for the mastery. The great monarchs of this forest, the Colvin Brothers, swayed to and fro under the influence of the strains which caught up the soft, sweet strains of "Never, more," in "The Star-Spangled Banner," and wafted the message to heaven.

"What is excellent as God lives permanent?" Out of the harmony of sound and silence, subtle influence, sound will go stealing down the centuries.

"If music be the food of love, play on."

Repete that strain again. It came o'er my ear so sweet somni- That brightens a bough of violet, and breathing and giving odor."

Strange, indeed, that talent receives its greatest appreciation away from home. In violent and skill and gentle manner the Bedford orchestra has no rivals. The members understood it fully together, for year past, practicing and perfecting until today we have a fine product. Infinite love for music has been the inspiring of existence in this organization. There is a sense of music upon the members of the orchestra that is unique and enduring. Its influence upon us cannot be estimated.

Music has charms to sooth the savage breast.

To rock rocks, or bend the knotted oak.

I've heard that things innumerate have moved.

And with living souls, have been informed.

By numbers and persuasive sound."

We'd like to see home orchestra everywhere possible, encouraging musical organizations everywhere. It would come back to us higher thinking and better living.
